

IS DESCENDANT OF BETSY ROSS

Mrs. Will E. Havens Bears That Distinction, it is Brought Out at D. A. R. Meeting.

FLAG DAY IS COMMEMORATED

History of Life of Maker of First Flag Read—Other Activities of Chapter.

The national flag day program of the Rushville chapter of D. A. R., held yesterday afternoon at the beautiful home of Mrs. Mary Frances Payne in North Main street was one of the most delightful meetings ever held here and was important for the many things accomplished at the meeting. Mrs. Payne and Mrs. Sarah M. Mowers were the hostesses.

Flag day had more than its usual meaning for the members of the Rushville chapter for a lineage paper was read by Mrs. Gilbert which proves conclusively that Mrs. Emma Merrill Havens, wife of Will E. Havens, is a lineal descendant of Betsy Ross, the designer and maker of the national flag.

Mrs. Havens, it was further brought out, bears the distinction of being the only member of the Rushville chapter who is lineally descended from a woman. Betsy Ross was the great, great grandmother of Mrs. Havens on her mother's side of the family.

Yesterday also saw the practical completion of the effort on the part of Mrs. Gilbert to obtain out of the Rushville chapter twenty members of the American Flag House and Betsy Ross Memorial association. It requires only ten cents to become a member, and in return the member's name is placed on the roll of the organization in Philadelphia and each member receives a reproduced painting by Charles H. Weisgerber of Betsy Ross submitting to General George Washington in her home for his approval the first flag ever made. Surrounding this picture are the proper credentials to show membership in the association.

When twenty members are obtained from any chapter, the chapter is presented with an enlarged picture like the one presented to each member. The Rushville chapter will present the enlarged picture to the high school here.

The money raised in this manner is to be used to purchase the home of Betsy Ross in Philadelphia and the block in which it sits. The old historic place is now squatted down between two larger buildings. When sufficient funds are raised, the association will tear away all the buildings, move the Ross home to the middle of the block and convert the ground into a park and a place of great historic interest. Betsy Ross was only 24 years old when she made the flag.

After hearing the reports of the standing and special committees, attention was called to Governor Ralston's proclamation fixing April 17 as Arbor Day. A committee was appointed to co-operate with the proper officials to see that the day is properly observed.

Mrs. Allen read a newspaper clipping on Arbor Day and another concerning the need of work among school children to educate them concerning white plague prevention. A committee was appointed to co-operate with Dr. W. S. Coleman, president of the Rush County Society for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis.

POSTOFFICE IS ROBBED

Thieves Escape With $100 From Springport, Henry County Today.

(By United Press.)

Newcastle, Ind., Mar. 20.—Robbers entered the postoffice at Springport, nine miles north of here, stole $100 in cash and made their escape on an interurban car early today. They are believed to have come to Springport from Muncie on the traction line. J. J. Hoover, the postmaster, left a clerk in charge of the office last night and the clerk left the money in the drawer. The sheriff is making an investigation.

MILROY GOING TO CELEBRATE

Will Commemorate Anniversary of Flood of Last March 25 With Gathering at U. P. Church.

HEORIC WORK IS RECALLED

Milroy is going to "celebrate," or commemorate, or possibly it would be better to say remember the anniversary of the flood of last year which devastated these parts along about March 25. Rush county and its inhabitants still have some moments in the way of bills. Milroy is going to entertain at the United Presbyterian church next Wednesday evening in honor of the heroes of that memorable occasion. It will be recalled that many praiseworthy sacrifices were made in the vicinity of Milroy to save human life. Lives were risked many times and many thrilling escapes were recounted after the waters had receded.

The Rev. Paul Stewart, pastor of the church where the anniversary event will be held, was chief among the rescuers who underwent untold hardships and risked his life many times to save an aged couple who were marooned in a small house near Moscow. Those who attempted to get the old people out were generally unable to get back to dry land and at one time there were as many as six people in danger of death at any moment. The Rev. Mr. Stewart spent several hours in a tree top, and when he began to lose consciousness, lashed himself to the tree with his suspenders.

NARROWLY ESCAPES WHEN HIT BY TRAIN

Southbound Big Four Freight Strikes

School Hack Driven by Edward Cowan Near Sandusky Today.

GOING AFTER THE CHILDREN

A school hack driven by Edward Cowan was hit by a southbound Big Four freight train this morning about six o'clock on the crossing in Sandusky. Mr. Cowan miraculously escaped serious injury, but was badly bruised. He sustained a broken bone in his ankle.

Mr. Cowan was starting on his trip to get the children for the Sandusky schools and failed to see the fast approaching train. The hack was demolished. The crossing at Sandusky is by the depot, and as the train did not stop at this station, it hit the wagon with great force. Luckily there were no children in the hack.

WILL CLOSE NEXT SUNDAY EVENING

Revival Meeting Which Has Been in Progress at St. Paul's M. E. Church to Come to End.

L. A. HARRIMAN'S FAREWELL

Says he Never Enjoyed a Revival More Than the One Which Has Been Held Here.

The revival meeting which has been in progress at the St. Paul M. E. church for the past two weeks will close Sunday evening. The meeting has been very successful. The Rev. L. A. Harriman closed his part of the work last evening and preached his farewell sermon.

The sermon was a continuation of the one preached the night before and was on the text, "If we Walk in the light as He is in the light, we have fellowship with one another and the blood of Jesus Christ the Son cleanseth us from all unrighteousness." The Rev. Mr. Harriman mentioned some of the things in the text that he omitted to say the night before.

He took three words from the text, "light," "walk" and "Fellowship" and explained their application to present day living. His explanation was that "light" was a symbol of the revelation of the truth of the gospel, "walk" was a symbol of practical living of this truth, and "fellowship" was the intimate relationship which each enjoyed with God by virtue of their acceptance of Him.

In the beginning of the sermon he spoke felicitously of his stay in Rushville, saying that he never enjoyed a meeting more than the one which they had been holding. A large crowd was present to hear his farewell sermon. The Rev. Mr. Harriman was called to his home because of a death in his congregation. The Rev. A. D. Batchelor will preach the sermon tonight. There will be no service Saturday night and the meeting will close Sunday evening.

REWARD OFFERED FOR THEIR ARREST

$50 Will be Given For Capture and Conviction of Boys Who Attempted Assault.

GOT DESCRIPTION OF ONE

A reward of $50 has been offered for the arrest and conviction of the person or persons that attempted to assault Miss Pauline Felts, last Saturday night, while she was on her way home. The case has not been dropped by any means and the reward which was offered yesterday is expected to create new interest in the case. The attempted assault occurred in Tenth street, just east of Main street. Miss Felts obtained a good description of one of the boys. She says there were two, one tall and the other short. The smaller of the two had a revolver. They attempted to force her down the alley. A search of all the pool rooms was made that night but it is not believed that they came down in the business district. The police and O. O. Felts, father of Pauline, have not given up hope of finding the guilty parties.

CONTEST WILL BE HELD HERE

This Information is Contained in Bulletin Issued by State Corn Growers Association.

TO STIMULATE INTEREST

Medals Will be Awarded Growers Raising 100 Bushels to Acre on 5 Acres.

Rush county is one of the counties in Indiana which has arranged for a county corn contest, according to a bulletin issued today by the Indiana Corn Growers' association from its office at Lafayette, Indiana.

The other counties mentioned are Wayne, Randolph, Boone, Monroe, Vigo, Montgomery, Madison, Decatur and Benton. Many others are almost ready to announce their premiums, the bulletin states, and it further urges that every county should participate. Suggestions and rules can be obtained from the secretary at Lafayette.

The bulletin says that with a view to stimulating the interests in the securing of larger yields of better corn in Indiana, the Corn Growers' association proposes a county-wide contest for every county in Indiana, for the year of 1914.

Not only does it hope that the proposed contest will demonstrate the possibilities of corn growing in the various counties, but it hopes to see as a result, better methods adopted over the larger areas, which will result in a lower cost of production.

The association also feels that Indiana should have a record of every corn grower in the year of 1914, who produces one hundred or more bushels of corn to the acre, on an area of not less than five acres.

Therefore, where county contests are organized and carried out with premiums amounting to $100 or more, the Indiana Corn Growers' association will co-operate by offering a medal of proper design and suitably engraved, for every grower who raises one hundred or more bushels of corn per acre, on an area of not less than five acres.

FILE CASE AND ARE SUED ALL IN A DAY

Four Men Bring Action Against Arlington Bank on Replevin and Then Are Made Defendants.

LAST IS ECHO OF MINING DEAL

John J. Conaway, Samuel Sheppard, Bert Leisure and William Reddick filed suit this afternoon against the Arlington bank, the action being in replevin. The plaintiffs allege that the bank holds a note for $1,200 that belongs to them and refuses to surrender it. The complaint states that the bank has no right to the property and the court is asked to give them immediate possession.

The plaintiffs in this case are made defendants today in an account suit filed by Edward A. Norris. Mr. Norris demands $725 alleging that he has this amount due him as a balance from what he loaned them while they were operating a mine in Joplin, Mo. These four men are defendants in an account suit filed last Saturday.

AGED MAN DIES SUDDENLY

Civil War Veteran Expires From Heart Disease.

Samuel Crunes, 70 years old, a well known resident of Sandusky, dropped dead of heart disease this morning at his home there. Mr. Crunes arose this morning and appeared in his usual health. When called to breakfast he started to get up out of a chair and fell back. He was dead when the family reached his side. Mr. Crunes was a veteran of the civil war and his sudden death came as a shock to his many friends. He is survived by one daughter and two grand children.

GETS PERMISSION TO SELL SOME STOCK

Receiver Will Dispose of Part of Walker Personal Property at Combination Sale.

SUIT AGAINST HIM HELD UP

Judge Meggie was back on the bench today and court was in session after a two days' lay-off on account of the Democratic state convention. Charles A. Frazee, receiver for A. P. Walker, was granted permission to sell some of the personal property at the combination sale to be held in this city, March 28. A number of hogs from the Walker farm will be offered for sale.

The petition to sell real estate in the case of Austin Frazee, executor of the last will and testament of S. C. Blackledge, deceased, against William Blacklidges et al., was granted and the real estate ordered sold. Wallace Morgan was appointed guardian for the minor heirs.

The case of the Kensington Farm, a corporation, against A. P. Walker, on a note, was set for trial today but was continued. The jury is called for Monday.

MOSTER SERVING OUT OLD SENTENCE

Mayor Bebout Says he Will Have to Get Caught up on What is Coming to Him.

ASKED FOR TRIAL BY JURY

Herbert "Mooney" Moster was sent to jail for eleven days this afternoon by Mayor Bebout to serve out a fine that has been hanging over him since January 31. Moster was arrested yesterday afternoon on the charge of public intoxication and when arraigned this morning entered a plea of not guilty and asked for a jury trial. Mayor Bebout granted his request and a jury was called for this afternoon to hear the case. Moster has been arrested three times since Mayor Bebout has been in office and the first time he was allowed to go free.

It was held over him and when the case came up this afternoon Mayor Bebout decided just to let him start serving what he had coming and not put any additional fines on Moster until he got caught up with those on the book. Many witnesses were on hand and several men were called for jury service. Moster was released from the Connorsville jail Wednesday and landed in the jail here the next day.

POSITIVE SHE WILL BE FOUND

Dr. Winters is as Confident as Ever of Finding Daughter on Anniversary of her Disappearance

WAS ONE YEAR AGO TODAY

Was Selling Needles For Missionary Society When She Disappeared From Newcastle

*****
HE STILL HAS HOPE.
"I am as positive as I ever was that my little daughter is alive and that she will eventually be found. There has not been one minute since she disappeared that I have not had this belief. Sometime I will find her. She may be found soon, I hope so, she may not be found for months, but she will be found."
This is the statement of Dr. W. A. Winters as given to the United Press today, when asked if he thought his little daughter was still alive.
*****

BY G. WALTER RATCLIFFE
(Written for United Press.)

Newcastle, Ind., March 20—Just one year ago today little Catherine Winters, the nine year old daughter of Dr. W. A. Winters, a humble dentist of this city, disappeared. Whether she was stolen to be held for a ransom; whether she was taken by relatives who might profit by her disappearance or whether she was the victim of foulplay remains a mystery.

On the day she disappeared, a caravan of gypsies passed through the little town of twelve thousand inhabitants. Since that time the belief has been growing that the gypsies

Caring For Children's Feet

It is most important to a child's welfare that it should have the right kind of shoes.

Just any kind will not do—ill-fitting ones are likely to leave troubles that will cause much suffering in after life.

Many able shoemakers have spent years in studying the needs of children's feet. They have designed shoes on correct lines, have made them of right leathers, and have built them with honest workmanship.

It is not our purpose to sing the praises of any one make or kind.

The right shoes are not hard to find. Every good storekeeper knows them and carries them.

First choose your dealer with care—you will find the advertisements of the better ones in this newspaper from day to day.

Sometimes they specialize on a particular kind or make of shoes. At all times they are willing to aid the anxious seeker for foot comfort with friendly and reliable advice.

First be sure of the dealer—and an excellent introduction to the right one will be to his advertisement in this newspaper.

took the child for ransom, but have been afraid to demand it for fear of detection because of the great amount of publicity which has been given the case.

During the year which has passed Dr. Winters has spent $2,200 out of his own pocket. This represents a small sum which he had saved, a mortgage which he has placed on his home, his office receipts and what money he could borrow of friends and relatives. During the year he and his wife, who is the step mother of Catherine, have personally been called on to identify eight girls, thought to be the lost child. Over twelve thousand miles have been traveled by the heartbroken father. Several trips have been made to Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Chicago. St. Louis was the center of a great many clues. Even as far south as Arkansas, the frantic father has travelled to identify a child. Many times he had gone for four and five days without sleep but he has not yet broken down. His nerves have gone through a terrible ordeal.

Piled up in his modest office, is a stack of letters that he has received some offering clues, some extending sympathy, some asking charity and a great many from so-called detectives, spiritualists and mediums. These he has given to thought.

During the year that has passed the doctor has been the subject of criticism from some who thought he was not telling all he knew. The Henry County grand jury was convened but gave no report as it was evident that it was being used for political purposes.

Three arrests have been made in the case. A woman in Michigan was sentenced to the federal prison for an attempt to blackmail. A man was arrested in Newcastle because he had needles identical with those which were being sold by little Catherine when she disappeared. A man was arrested in Little Rock, Ark., because he acknowledged he had a child by the name of Catherine Winters. This man was found to be an imposter, however.

It is estimated by Dr. Winters that the search has cost in its entirety about $50,000, counting what has been spent by everyone concerned, and yet not one clue has been unearthed which has shed any light on this mystery.

Federal aid has been promised but it is doubtful whether this would help. The celebrated Burns and Pinkerton detective agencies have at times had their best men on the case. They have made reports that the gypsies did not get the girl, but that was as far as their reports went. They did not say who did get her.

Dr. Winters is a member of the Knights of Pythias lodge. Over several hundred thousand members of the lodge are at work in an effort to find her. Every police department and every detective agency in the United States and Canada has her picture.

Here are a few of the theories that have been advanced and the reason they have either been dropped or are still being worked on:

Kidnapping by gypsies—Still thought plausible. Dr. Winters believes. Detectives say it is improbable because no demands have been made for ransom.

Taken by relatives—No motive. Every relative of the child has been given an examination by the best skilled detectives. They have given the financial aid they could.

Foul play theory. Again no motive. Within forty-eight hours after the child disappeared, a holiday was declared in Newcastle. Every barn, outhouse, stream, and every conceivable place was searched and dragged but no results were obtained. This eliminated the foul play clue as far as Newcastle was concerned, and it is hard to make the people of this city believe she is dead.

After sifting the clues, of which Dr. Winters says there has been upward to two thousand, there remains but one or two which bear any fruit. The first is that she was kidnapped and that she will be returned when the search dies down. The second is that she is now in some private school or orphan's asylum. This is the more plausible, but detectives say that the child was so intelligent she would surely have let herself be known. She may be in Canada in a private school where the proprietors are holding her for some one interested. This is the clue advanced by a well known detective agency.

But the question is whether Catherine Winters, now ten years old is alive or is she dead.

No one knows, or if they do they are keeping silent about it. This is the only case of this century where a child was kidnapped and a clue not found.

Little Frankie Winters, the seven year old brother of Catherine is hopeful that his sister will return. He is so hopeful that he is saving a little candy Easter chicken, which he and Catherine purchased a little over a year ago. No one could make him believe that Catherine is dead, and for that matter no one can make Dr. Winters believe it. Hope—that is the only thing that has kept Dr. Winters alive for the last year. "It would be better to know that she is dead," he has sobbed a hundred times.

It is the mystery of the age. One year ago today Catherine Winters was selling needles for a missionary society so that little children in uncivilized countries could be taken care of. Today this little child who lived in a civilized nation and in the Twentieth century is gone. Will she be found? Is she dead or alive? There is no answer.

Despite the Fussy Frills and Puffs Women Mirror Manishness in Suits

BY MARGARET MASON.
(Written for United Press.)

Mere man has seen Dame Fashion From his wardrobe fine points seek—

To placate fickle females

Always new styles she must eke—

His walking stick she's seized on

And evolved those skirts unique—

That ape his nether garments

In a manner very chic;

Pockets, Gladstone collars, shirts,

She's adopted with much cheek

And now his pique waistcoats—

Do you wonder he feels pique?

New York, Mar. 20.—In spite of the fussy femininity of frills, puffs and ruffles so prevalent on all the

the silks and lingerie frocks and even on the suits of moire, taffeta and serge

the leaning toward masculine accessories is becoming more and more marked.

No coat suit is complete or smart these days without its swagger white waistcoat of pique or linen with a flaring collar attached. Of course all of the waistcoats are not of washable materials but those that are promise to have the sanction of popularity.

More and more you see the walking stick, slightly longer than its masculine prototype, being taken in girlish and matronly hands. Indeed at many of the dansants you see some of the most modishly gotten up of the fashionable dancers tripping

the light fantastic and tripping literally thus encumbered.

You have long applied the adjectives modest and shrinking to the sky violet but the modern violet shade, now affected so universally by the 1914 belle, is as violent and blatant and unshrinking as a guaranteed dye will make it. There is a great run on all the shades from royal purple to tender lavender with the fruity effects of grape prune and plum to boot.

While it has not yet quite vanished from sight the slit in the skirt of the moment is gradually fading into a passe stage. The very latest skirt is the bustled one pulled up shorter behind and thus allowing room to step which was formally granted by the slit. The skirts are raised well above the heels in the rear and afford ample room for walking. Where slits are still seen their regulation length is twelve inches—just a foot for two feet.

Nothing seems safe from the fickle fingers of fashion. Now it's the wedding ring that is having the changes rung. Not content with restricting its change of style to its width as heretofore fashion has decreed that gold is no longer the chic material. Hence the nuptial band of platinum will encircle the third finger of all fashionable 1914 brides if the bridegrooms knows what's what.

The tiny little summer coats and wraps for wear over the lacy film of lingerie frocks are almost too adorable to be adequately described in cold words.

They are as limp and flimsy as rags but they are royal rags indeed. The most delectable ones are built of gayly and flowered silk crepe and lined with a contrasting shade of chiffon. They are all reversible and when worn with the chiffon side out the flowered glories of the crepe glow through seductively. One exquisite crepe of old gold patterned in white, pink and blue blossoms is shirred in a loose puff around the neck and kimona sleeves and hangs like a little loose sack to the waist line where it is again finished with a shirred puffing.

Mayor Joe Bell of Indianapolis, whose absolute connection to the Taggart-Crawford Fairbanks machine in the Democratic party before his election, was introduced by Senator Kern at the Democratic state convention yesterday as "a Democratic mayor who has shown the country how easy it is to keep faith with the people" when he arose to read the report of the committee on resolutions.

The Taggart crowd evidently felt it was safe with its man Bell at helm, but even though 12 of the 13 committeemen were outwardly opposed to the adoption of the direct primary plank, they announced that they could not so disregard the wishes of President Wilson and Secretary Bryan.

So it was not the leaders of the party in Indiana who wanted the direct plank. They are not in sympathy with such legislation. Mayor Bell made that plain when he announced the committee had authorized him to make the report. It was Wilson and Bryan who put the plank into the platform.

In connection with Senator Kern's introduction of Joe Bell, it might be recalled that many newspapers have lauded the Indianapolis mayor for his apparent strict enforcement of the law. This has been done without respect to party.

But yesterday an Indianapolis newspaper reporter discovered, at least it was just announced yesterday, that the "Sunday bar" at the Denison hotel, which can't be seen from the street and which was out of commission during the last administration in Indianapolis, had been refitted since Bell came into office was doing business at the old stand. This, it appears, is the way Bell is enforcing the law.

said Mrs. Sarah Giffin, the regent, in opening the program, "is on our national flag which is becoming dearer to the American people each year. Now little children are taught to love and honor it. Each home should possess an American flag. In most of the churches all over the country 'Old Glory' floats from the top of the organ or is draped from the front of the church in some way. When I enter a strange church, I feel more at home if I see the American flag. It is strange to me that we do not have a flag in each of our churches here."

Mrs. C. E. Waldon read an article from the D. A. R. magazine on "Our Country's Flag." Mrs. Will Dill read a newspaper clipping on the subject. Mrs. Waldon read "Old Glory," by James Whitcomb Riley.

The home of Mrs. Payne was profusely decorated with the spring flowers and silk flags. The refreshments were in green and white, honoring St. Patrick's Day. They consisted of brick ice cream, cake, mints and coffee.

The information for the paper read by Mrs. Gilbert was furnished by Mrs. Minnie Merrill Jamieson of Philadelphia, sister of Mrs. Havens. The paper Mrs. Gilbert read was as follows:

The maiden name of her that afterwards became Betsy Ross was Elizabeth Griscom, daughter of Samuel Griscom, of Philadelphia. Her parents and grandparents had lived in Philadelphia. She eloped with John Ross when but a young girl. Ross was an upholsterer with his establishment at what is now 239 Arch street and his wife assisted him at his trade. It was here that her skillful needle is said to have been employed in fashioning the first flag of the Stars and Stripes.

John Ross died young and for a time the widow carried on the business. Mrs. Ross married twice afterward, her second husband being Joseph Ashburn and her third, John Claypole. Both John Claypole and Elizabeth Griscom-Ross Ashburn-Claypole were buried first in the grounds of the Free Quakers, but their bodies were afterward removed to Mount Moriah cemetery.

Betsy Ross' tomb is about a quarter of a mile from the entrance gate, following the drive by the left wall. Betsy Ross' parents were Quakers, but she married a member of the Church of England and then became a member of that church. The pew occupied at Christ church on Second street is marked with a brass plate.

From Mrs. Havens' application papers for membership, I quote the following:

Betsy Ross', maiden name was Griscom. Her father, Samuel Griscom, was a grandson of Andrew Griscom, who came to Philadelphia from Yorkshire in 1862, and who is known in history as the builder of the first brick house in Philadelphia. She was married three times—first to Col. Ross, a nephew of one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence. After his death she married a Mr. Ashburn, who died a prisoner of war. Her third marriage was to John Claypole, a lineal descendant of Oliver Cromwell. Yet it is as Betsy Ross that she will be known in history. In the spring of 1877 congress appointed a committee authorized to design a suitable flag for the nation. The committee consisted of Gen George Washington and Robert Morris. They called upon Mrs. Betsy Ross, who was considered the finest needle worker in America. This and the high regard Gen. Washington had for her led the committee to consult her about the flag. The general, after explaining the design to Betsy Ross, directed the stars should be five pointed instead of six and showed the five pointed star was more symmetrical and pleasing to the eye. So that was chosen. The flag made by Mrs. Ross was first used at Saratoga and its first battle led to victory for the Americans. Montgomery's History of America says: The first U. S. flag adopted by congress June 14, 1777, having the Stars and Stripes, was made, it is said, out of a soldier's white shirt, an old blue army overcoat and a red flannel petticoat. Paul Jones appears to have first raised this flag at sea and in February, 1783 it first appeared on the ship Bedford in a British port.

Mr. Jackson was the engineer of the train and was caught beneath the overturned engine. He sustained a broken arm, two broken ribs, and a severe scalp wound. Following the wreck he was rushed to the Marion hospital, and it is stated will live.

The fireman escaped with slight bruises and none of the passengers was hurt as the two cars that went in the ditch were the mail and baggage cars. A defective rail is blamed for the wreck. The train was due here at 3:28 o'clock and because of the wreck traffic on this division was tied up for some time.

MIGRATION HAS NOW STARTED

Early Comers Among Birds Are Already Arriving From the South
—Includes Robins.

AN INTERESTING STUDY

Tide Will Gradually Rise Until About May 1 and by May 20 it Will be All Over.

(By United Press.)

Richmond, Ind., March 20—Dr. Davis W. Dennis, the bird-wizard of Earlham college, who for many years had led troops of young people in search of rare birds, is again in the fields early and late. Because his step fails him, he rides horseback to and from the bird's haunts. In an article written for the United Press today he tells the truth about the robin, and describes the stupendous journey of a mite of a bird that would raise its young in safety.

BY DR. DAVIS W. DENNIS
(Written for United Press.)

It is the time of the year for the great miracle of bird migration to set in. The earliest comers are here now. The blue bird, the robin, the killdeer, the mourning dove and the yellow-billed sap-sucker have arrived. The tide of migration will gradually rise until about May 1, and by the 20th of something about it: the honk, honk of the leader of the long V of wild geese has been heard by all as they fly over to the north, and those who are 65 years old and over can tell stories about the millions of wild pigeons that flew by on their way to the sunny south in their childhood. Few of us knew the full truth about bird migration. During the full moon nearest the 1st of May in 1909 Loren C. Petry watched the face of the moon for four hours one night through the telescope at Earlham College and counted 56 birds that passed between him and the moon's disc. At that rate, 25,000 birds flew over Richmond that night on their way to their nesting grounds. Fifteen hundred birds of one kind flew against the statue of liberty in one night in a storm.

Where did his army of birds come from? Wither are they going? Why are they going? The first question can be answered by the ornithologist of the southern part of Northern America and the northern half of South America; the second by observers to the north of us. We are not sure that we have the right answer to the third, but believe the birds migrate that they may raise their young in a safe place, where alligators, snakes, etc., are not found.

If the bushes and low trees along our north and south flowing streams are closely watched between the middle of April and the middle of May, many bright colored, small birds will be seen. Among these will be the black-poll warbler, a bird smaller than the English sparrow with solid black on the top of its head and wing, and elsewhere black and white striped. This bird came from far south of the equator, and is on his way to the mating grounds north of the arctic circle. He will spend two months in his summer home and the other ten months making his long, ten-thousand-mile round-trip journey. He will be busy during his two-months stay building his home in the grass or low bushes and raising his young.

Many interesting facts may be learned. The robin nests in our towns and cities, and winters from Southern Indiana and Kentucky southward. In the north he knows we are his friends. He spends one winter in Sanford, Fla., and not one robin was seen about the town. One evening the man who kept the hotel came in with a bag of twenty-three robins, which he had shot for pot pie. The robin in the south knows he is among enemies and is the shyest bird I met.

Bryant got his lesson from a migrating bird:

"He who from zone to zone
Guides through the boundless sky
thy certain flight,
In the long way that I must tread alone
Will lead my steps aright."

POSTAGE ON BOOKS HAS BEEN REDUCED

Parcel Post Rates Apply When Matter Weighs Over Eight Ounces
—Other Printed Matter.

AT NEW RATE ABOVE 4 OUNCES

A new rate for books and miscellaneous printed matter became effective this week, according to an order received from the department at Washington at the Rushville post-office.

Above eight ounces books go at regular parcel post rates, but below that limit the old rate of two ounces for a cent prevails. Catalogues in book form come under the ruling in regard to books. Above four pounds miscellaneous printed matter goes at parcel post rates, but below the limit the old rate of one cent for each two ounces holds good.

Recently the postmaster general issued an order that greatly simplifies the rates on seeds, cuttings, bulbs, roots and plants. Hereafter they will be treated as fourth class matter strictly without regard to the purpose to which they are intended, the rate being one cent an ounce for four ounces or less, regardless of distance and on parcels weighing more than four ounces the regular zone rates will apply.

Marion

The Leading Light "Six" of the Season

Every bit of the accumulated experience of eleven years of successful car building and service to owners, has entered into the design and construction of this six cylinder Marion. Every refinement that experience could suggest, is included.

Consistent pursuance of the Marion policy of incorporating only the highest quality of material, along distinctive lines, makes this latest Marion model at $2,150 worthy in every way of the enviable reputation built up by Marion quality and service.

The Marion "Four"

For grace, easy riding qualities, power, sturdiness, and nicety of detail, no car on the market at anywhere near the price can equal the Marion four-cylinder model at $1,650. It is essentially everything a high class "Four" should be.

Each Marion chassis is fitted with many distinct body types. There is one to meet your needs whether your choice be for touring car, roadster, speedster or closed car. Superior finish, attention to detail and equipment which includes Westinghouse electric lighting and starting system, Stewart speedometer, demountable rims, top and top boot, windshield, etc., features each model.

Marion cars are best appreciated after a thorough demonstration. We would be pleased to arrange this opportunity for you. A phone call will do.

CHAPTER III.

OLD Pat's eyes were brightly moist with pride and triumph. "An' what will you be thinkin' to happen when some of the gay an' ugly ones tries to rough it on him?" he asked.

"He'll kill them sure," was Stubener's verdict.

"No, he's too cool for that. But he'll just hurt them some for their dirtiness."

"Let's draw up the contract," said the manager.

"Wait till you know the whole worth of him," old Pat answered.

"Tis strong terms I'll be makin' you come to. Go for a deer hunt with the boy over the hills an' learn the lungs and the legs of him. Then we'll sign up ironclad and regular."

Stubener was gone two days on that hunt, and he learned all and more than old Pat had promised and came back a very weary and very humble man.

The young fellow's innocence of the world had been startling to the case hardened manager, but he had found him nobody's fool.

Virgin though his mind was, untouched by all save a narrow mountain experience, nevertheless he had proved possession of a natural keenness and shrewdness far beyond the average.

In a way he was a mystery to Sam, who could not understand his terrible equanimity of temper. Nothing ruffled him or worried him, and his patience was of an enduring primitive nature.

He never swore, not even the futile and emasculated cuss words of sissy boys.

"I'd swear all right if I wanted to," he had explained when challenged by his companion. "But I guess I've never come to needing it. When I do I'll swear, I suppose."

Old Pat, resolutely adhering to his decision, said goodbye at the cabin.

"It won't be long, Pat, boy, when I'll be readin' about you in the papers. I'd like to go along, but I'm afraid it's me for the mountains till the end."

And then, drawing the manager aside, the old man turned loose on him almost savagely.

"Remember what I've ben tellin' ye over an' over. The boy's clean, an' he's honest. He knows nothing of the rottenness of the game. I kept it all away from him, I tell you. He don't know the meanin' of fake. He knows only the bravery an' romance an' glory of fightin', an' I've filled him up with tales of the old ring heroes, though little enough, God knows, it's set him afire."

"Man, man, I'm tellin' you that I clipped the fight columns from the newspapers to keep it 'way from him—him a-thinkin' I was wantin' them for me scrapbook. He don't know a man ever lay down or throw a fight. So don't you get him in anything that ain't straight. Don't turn the boy's stomach."

"That's why I put in the null an' void clause. The first rottenness an' the contract's broke of itself; no snide division of stake money; no secret arrangements with the movin' pitcher men for guaranteed distance. There's slathers o' money for the both of you. But play it square or you lose. Understand?"

"And whatever you'll be doin' watch out for the women," was old Pat's parting admonishment, young Pat astride his horse and reining in dutifully to hear. "Women is death an' damnation, remember that. But when you do find the one, the only one, hang on to her. She'll be worth more than glory an' money. But first be sure, an' when you're sure don't let her slip through your fingers."

"Grab her with the two hands of you and hang on. Hang on if all the world goes to smash an' smitherens. Pat, boy, a good woman is—a good woman. 'Tis the first last."

Once in San Francisco, Sam Stubener's troubles began. Not that young Pat had a nasty temper or was grouchy as his father had feared. On the contrary, he was phenomenally sweet and mild.

But he was homesick for his beloved mountains; also he was secretly appalled by the city, though he trod its roaring streets imperturbable as a red Indian.

"I came down here to fight," he announced at the end of the first week. "Where's Jim Hanford?"

Stubener whistled.

"A big champion like him wouldn't look at you," was his answer. "Go and get a reputation, is what he'd say."

"I can lick him."

"But the public doesn't know that. If you licked him you'd be champion of the world, and no champion ever became so with his first fight."

"I can."

"But the public doesn't know it. Pat. It wouldn't come to see you fight. And it's the crowd that brings the money and the big purses. That's why Jim Hanford wouldn't consider you for a second. There'd be nothing in it for him."

"Besides, he's getting $3,000 a week right now in vaudeville, with a contract for twenty-five weeks. Do you think he'd chuck that for a go with a man no one ever heard of? You've got to do something first—make a record. You've got to begin on the little local dubs that nobody ever heard of—guys like Chub Collins, Roughhouse Kelly and the Flying Dutchman."

"When you've put them away, you're only started on the first round of the ladder. But after that you'll go up like a balloon."

"I'll meet those three named in the same ring one after the other," was Pat's decision. "Make the arrangements accordingly."

Stubener laughed.

"What's wrong? Don't you think I can put them away?"

"I know you can," Stubener assured him. "But it can't be arranged that way. You've got to take them one at a time. Besides, remember, I know the game and I'm managing you. This proposition has to be worked up, and I'm the boy that knows how. If we're make a showing, and he was astounded to see Pat seated in his corner a bare five minutes lose the healthy color from his cheeks, which turned a sickly yellow.

"Cheer up, boy," Stubener said, slapping him on the shoulder. "The first time in the ring is always strange, and Kelly has a way of letting his opponent wait for him on the chance of getting stage fright."

"It isn't that," Pat answered. "It's the tobacco smoke. I'm not used to it, and it's making me fair sick."

His manager experienced the quick shock of relief. A man who turned sick from mental causes, even if he were a Samson, could never win to place in the prize ring. As for tobacco smoke, the youngster would have to get used to it, that was all.

Young Pat's entrance into the ring had been met with silence, but when Rough House Kelly crawled through the ropes his greeting was uproarious.

He did not belie his name. He was a ferocious looking man, black and hairy, with huge, knotty muscles, weighing a full 200 pounds.

Pat looked across at him curiously and received a savage scowl. After both had been introduced to the audience they shook hands.

And even as their gloves gripped Kelly ground his teeth, convulsed his face with an expression of rage and muttered:

"You've got yer nerve wid yeh." He flung Pat's hand roughly from his and hissed. "I'll eat yeh up, ye pup!"

The audience laughed at the action, and it guessed hilariously at what Kelly must have said.

Back in his corner and waiting the gong, Pat turned to Stubener.

"Why is he angry with me?" he asked.

"He ain't," Stubener answered. "That's his way, trying to scare you. It's just mouth fighting."

"It isn't boxing," was Pat's comment. And Stubener, with a quick glance, noted that his eyes were as mildly blue as ever.

"Be careful," the manager warned as the gong for the first round sounded and Pat stood up. "He's liable to come at you like a man eater."

And like a man eater Kelly did come at him, rushing across the ring in wild fury. Pat, who in his easy way had advanced only a couple of paces, gauged the other's momentum, sidestepped and brought his stiff arched right across to the jaw.

Then he stood and looked on with a great curiosity.

The fight was over.

Kelly had fallen like a stricken bullock to the floor, and there he lay without movement while the referee, bending over him, shouted the ten seconds in his unheeding ear.

When Kelly's seconds came to lift him Pat was before them. Gathering the huge, inert bulk of the man in his arms, he carried him to his corner and deposited him on the stool and in the arms of his seconds.

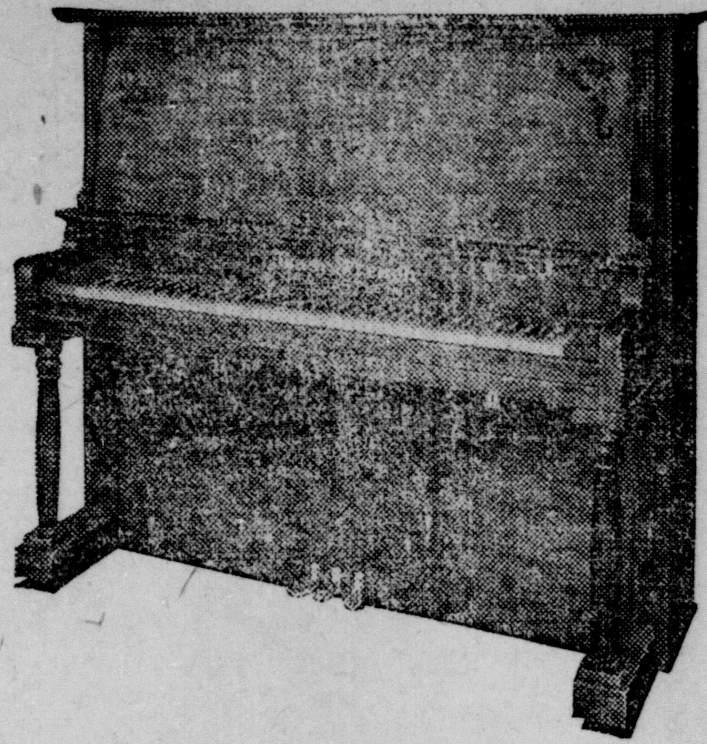

Half a minute later Kelly's head lifted and his eyes wavered open. He looked about him stupidly and then to one of his seconds.

"What happened?" he queried hoarsely. "Did the roof fall on me?"

RUN-DOWN WOMEN

Find Health in a Simple Tonic.

How many women do you know who are perfectly well, strong and healthy as a woman should be? They may not be sick enough to lie in bed—but they are run-down, thin, nervous, tired and devalitized.

Women are so active nowadays, and so much is expected of them, that they constantly overdo and suffer from headache, backache, nervousness and kindred ills.

Such women need Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil which will create an appetite, tone up the digestive organs, make pure blood and create strength.

Mrs. Walter Price, Biloxi, Mass. says: "I was in a run-down condition for months, I had taken several medicines but they seemed to do me no good. Finally Vinol was recommended and from the first bottle I began to improve until I am strong and well as ever."

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. F. B. Johnson & Co Druggists Rushville Indiana.

A Valuable Suggestion Important to Everyone

It is now conceded by physicians that the kidneys should have more attention as they control the other organs to a remarkable degree and do a tremendous amount of work in removing the poisons and waste matter from the system by filtering the blood.

During the winter months especially, when we live an indoor life, the kidneys should receive some assistance when needed, as we take less exercise drink less water and often eat more rich heavy food, thereby forcing the kidneys to do more work than Nature intended. Evidence of kidney trouble, such as lame back, annoying bladder troubles, smarting or burning, brick-dust or sediment, sallow complexion, rheumatism, may be weak or irregular heart action, warns you that your kidneys require help immediately to avoid more serious trouble.

Many physicians claim that an herbal medicine containing no minerals or opiates has the most healing influence. An ideal herbal compound that has had most remarkable success as a kidney and bladder remedy is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by Parcel Post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention the Rushville Daily Republican.

MONUMENTS!

Our stock of monuments this season surpasses anything we have heretofore carried, embracing a neat selection from the modestly plain to the elaborately carved from model designs. The products from the numerous quarries in the Barre, Vermont, district vary, not alone in color, but also in quality of stock. Who selects yours? J. B. SCHRICHTE & Sons

CLARK'S PURITY FLOUR

Costs a little more than other flours but is worth the difference. It is made for people who care enough about bread to notice the difference in different kinds of flour.

THROWS OPEN ITS DOORS TODAY

National Press Club Will Hold Housewarming Tonight and Wilson Will be a Guest.

THROW AWAY FRONT DOOR KEY

Club Entertains Most Prominent Men of All Nations During Its Brilliant Career.

(By United Press.)

Washington, Mar. 20.—The National Press Club threw open its doors to the public today. Tonight President Wilson and other notables will be its guests at a housewarming. This club, comprising in its membership local newspapermen, leading Washington paper correspondents, and a notable roll of men in high official life, has outgrown its quarters for the second time, and tonight's housewarming finds it in much larger and more elaborate quarters than before.

The National Press Club is sort of democratic clearing house for news and social intercourse. Here the correspondents of the "Cross Roads Clarion" can exchange views—and news—with the correspondents of the more pretentious "New York Nugget". Here he can meet the biggest men in the newspaper profession in Washington and the highest officials. Presidents, senators, congressmen have been the club's guests. Prominent scientists, politicians, explorers and musicians assisted in its "hobby night" entertainments. In these affairs, the man who might seem high and mighty and far away from the common people, drops off the cares of state and business and jokes and laughs, and, in short shows that he's a regular fellow.

Already at its other quarters the club has thrown away its front door key. It is always open, and there is generally a group of members there at every hour of the day or night. For the night workers, it is the only place for respite or amusement that Washington affords in the wee sma' hours. So every morning when the newspaper presses throughout the nation are grinding out the press members' contributions, there is a gathering of correspondents in the big living room for music, song, story and feasting. Its members carry more big secrets every day than any similar size group of men. Its watchword is "the pen is mightier than the sword."

MOTION OVERRULED.

Terre Haute, Ind., Mar. 20.—That the defense in the trial of Mayor Donn M. Roberts for election frauds would not ask a change of venue from Judge Charles M. Fortune was indicated today when Attorney Inman of Roberts filed a motion before Judge Fortune for a bill of particulars from the state. The motion was overruled.

ATTRACTIVE DECORATIONS

Guffin Dry Goods Co., Holds Fourth Annual Opening Today.

The fourth annual opening of the Guffin Dry Goods company was held this afternoon, and as in the past the event attracted a large crowd of people. The store was beautifully decorated in cut flowers and an artistic design of lilies gave the store a beautiful appearance. Many of the advance styles for spring were shown. The opening, according to Mr. Guffin, was the best he has yet held. The store this year was decorated by the employees and Mr. Guffin was loud in his praise for their work. Throughout the afternoon music was furnished by Wagoner's orchestra. Carnations were given to the women.

ONEAL BROTHERS OPENING

Fourth Annual Event Attracted Usual Crowd.

The fourth annual opening of Oneal Brothers was held today and will continue Saturday. The opening held each year by this firm attracts large crowds and while the Friday crowd is nothing to compare with that of Saturday, a fair sized crowd was in attendance. The large display room is attractively arranged, showing the great variety of farm implements and supplies carried by this firm. Each factory having a line of goods at Oneal Brothers place is represented at the opening. All the latest farm machinery is on display and the exhibit is well worth while.

YOU GET EXTRA VALUE

For Every Yard of LaPorte Dress Goods You Buy

There have been many ideas and schemes of more or less profit-sharing value been advanced by business concerns during the past years—but in our judgment, few if any ever possessed the simple, practical, money saving advantages of the La Porte Woolen Mill's 50th Anniversary Event.

By Far The Most Pronounced Advantage

of this event to you is found in the great variety of ordinarily high priced Dress Fabrics which you now buy at prices of ordinary styles.

THE LAPORTE TRADE MARK IS YOUR PROTECTION AGAINST UNSATISFACTORY DRESS GOODS

The style qualities, color fastness and service of LaPorte fabrics are so well known by our customers that little further comment would seem necessary we would say, however, that no detail of the manufacture of these goods is neglected.

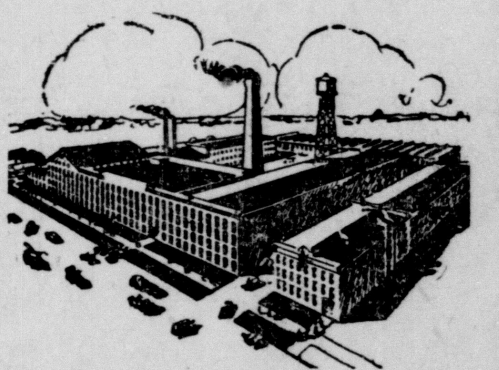

Whatever you select in our dress goods department is as near perfect as possible. We guarantee satisfaction to all customers, otherwise we are always ready to refund the money.

IN VIEW OF THE INCREASING DEMAND

For better grades in Dress and Wash Fabrics the patrons of our Dress Goods Department will surely indorse and be greatly benefited by this event, which brings such an exceptional variety of unusually expensive dress and wash goods styles within the price reach of every interested woman.

THE SCOPE OF CREPE WEAVES HAS NEVER BEEN SO LARGE as it is this season. Beginning with the Silk and Wool Crepes and Worsted Crepes, so deservedly popular for tailored suits, you will find the same general styles beautifully retained in silk and wool as well as cotton fabrics. The most noted example of the trend of fashion is found in many beautiful Crepe de Chines, Accordion Crepes, Brocaded Crepe de Chines and other fabrics of the crepe idea included in this display.

Whether for Dress, Afternoon, Visiting, House, Party, Evening or Business wear you will find the material best suited to your dress needs here. LET US SHOW YOU THESE NEW STYLES. Our prices are so reasonable you can well afford to buy enough for two Spring Dresses instead of one.

FOR FIFTY YEARS THIS GREAT MILL HAS PRODUCED NOTHING BUT DRESS GOODS LEADERS

Isn't it only reasonable to believe that an organization of Dress Goods Specialists, catering exclusively to the Style requirements of American women for half a hundred years, Successfully, Must know how to satisfy your requirements. Come in and let us show you the LaPorte 50th Anniversary Styles. Compare prices and judge their distinctive merits for yourself.

Instead of "special rebates," "prize offers," "premiums," or "souvenirs" the idea back of this birthday celebration is to put the cost of such commonplace novelties into extra value and give our customers full benefit.
